Dear Mr. Jarek Krajka and Mr. Chris Alexander,

I write to inform you that I just sent my article to your emails. This article is about the result of my research on the implementation of Indonesian's MOOC. I and my colleagues conducted a study about to what extent Asian students became autonomous during the MOOC. The detailed information is presented in the article. I hope that this article is relevant to your journal. I look forward to hearing from you soon. Thank you.

Best Regards

Daniel Ginting

Dear Authors,
there are still a few minor issues that demand clarification for your article to be published in the January issue of our journal. We have very little time for that, which means you need to resolve the issues indicated in comments within 1 day maximum.

Best,

I am sorry, but you do not respond to all comments in the file, which makes our work harder. The comment clearly prompted you to give missing data for Belawati. Another one prompted you to add 2-3 conclusive paragraphs. The revision should be done by adding annotations in Acrobat Reader, NOT sending your original file which has changed so much due to our copy-editing.

We hope this is by chance, not by disregard for our editorial efforts.

You still fail to give the details for Belawati which I requested some three or four times - is that on purpose?

For Belawati, complete missing words in the title, give place of publication, publisher and pages for the chapter

Yes, I am working on it. Here is the information for Belawati

Belawati, T. (2019). Massive Open Online Courses. The State of Practice in Indonesia. In T. H. Zhang, K., Bonk, J.C., Reeves, T.C., Reynolds (Ed.), MOOCs and Open Education in the Global South: Challenges, Successes, and Opportunities. NY: Routledge. pp 2017-2023

Please help me if I still fail. Thank you

The article used to be there. I do not know why it does not show up anymore. I accessed that on 10 of June, 2018.
